IT CONSULTING PRACTICES

Information & Cybersecurity

Keeping your law firm secure is essential. Security breaches can damage your firm's reputation and cost you time and money. IVIONICS provides both information security and cybersecurity consulting services. A SOC-compliant security expert will recommend preventing unauthorized access, countering threats, protecting confidential information, and disrupting, destroying, and modifying data for your firm. IVIONICS informs legal firms on how to resolve and implement security measures to prevent disruptions. Whether your law firm has experienced a security breach or needs to improve its security posture, the IVIONICS team can help.

Data Governance & GRC

Security and compliance must be balanced when protecting your law firm's data. Data governance policies preserve your firm's sensitive data, and GRC gives you the framework to create a secure environment. The IVIONICS team advises law firms on best practices in governance, risk, and compliance (GRC) and data governance.

vCIO & vCISO

Only some law firms have a CIO & CISO who strategizes and understands current technology practices while guiding a team of IT professionals. IVIONICS vCIO (Virtual Chief Information Officer) and vCISO (Virtual Chief Information Security Officer) services provide your firm's IT expertise and leadership.

Change Management & Software Selection

Change Management and Software Selection services are helpful for law firms looking to upgrade, change, or are unsure of what technology or software to use. IVIONICS provides law firms with the best software solutions and integration processes to maximize productivity and minimize downtime.

YOUR CONSULTING PARTNER

The IVIONICS team is here to help if you are still determining the next step for your law firm. An IT consultant who is experienced, dedicated, and trustworthy is an essential part of a law firm's IT strategy. You can count on IVIONICS to provide honest and reliable legal technology information. For trusted advice, you can explore IVIONICS consultation solutions today.
